Not a long story but I have added the bxslider to a xoops block and decided to share.

I have written a how-to on my site, with a download of the files needed. I include the css files.

Right now it just tells how to add it to a side block, next week I will add, How to do it in a center block. The directions are fairly simple.

The story can be found Here

Let me know what you think,

John
