This new year's day XOOPS is two years old! I wanted to do something a bit special for the occasion, so here it is. What is it? It's a XOOPS Timeline depicting (sort of) the main dates in the development of this amazing product. If you want to see it, just click on the adjacent piece of graphic. To all XOOPS community, thanks, and double congratulations: one for the new year and the other for being companions in the development of this superb software product. Cheers.
