I have found that some people are having trouble installing the package using our install script. We will fix the bugs we received till now, but if you would want to install it now, please use the SQL dump files I have just placed in our Downloads section. I have placed the SQL dump files (both tar.gz and zip formats) for RC1 in our Downloads section. Please use the dump file ONLY when you had trouble using our install script included in the core package. And also, please first read the README.txt included. To download, PRESS HERE
