Hi Folks, I have been a member of the xoops community for a little while and have never gotten the nerve to submit news about a new site I built using xoops until now.

I am a volunteer crew member for the Boston 3-Day Breast Cancer walk. I put this site together for the walkers, the crew and anyone else to get an idea of what this is all about.

I am much more proud of the cause than the website but under the cricumstances we will blend the two together, any feedback is greatly appreciated.
