Hello to all!!

My name is Seiji Ueoka, an art activist in Tokyo.

I've just re-launched my personal website with Xoops and started releasing original themes as well. Please feel free to download if you like any of them.

My site is in Japanese so if your system does not support Japanese, you will probably get a distorted proportion. But I did make the English version which you can download from the url below.

* I re-launched my personal website with Xoops. I've started to release themes, too. I will be releasing more in the future.

tabNOMAD style

http://art-nomad.net/documents/artnomad_tab_eng.zip

* I've created this theme with tab menu using Ryuji's hack file, ex_assign.php.

To protect the freedom, I'm not throwing copy rights aside. But you don't have to show the copy right text at all.

I'm planning to release more themes in the future. Comments, suggestions, and requests are welcomed under this thread or email directly.

Looking forward to hear from you.
Thanks!
