xClassifieds is a new module under development which has a new interface for both Administrators and users and offers more control of your ads.

xClassifieds can be located on the XOOPS Module Development Site

Currently it's just a hacked up copy of myAds with a bunch of new features but the future holds promise of:

- More admin configurability
- Better user and admin interface
- Archived ads instead of deleted ads for easier reactivation by users and admins
- Multiple photo attachments
- More category control for admin (allow posts, disallow posts, certain groups can post, etc)
- Classified Broadcasting System as used on my site's version of this module.
