The pm-block module is a module for managing the PM`s from a block.

For those, who don`t like to recieve their personal messages in their (full) email account, a small module was written, which gives a complete information over the xoops pm-account in a block.

So you don`t have to go always to the userinfo. The block will be active after the login of the user. The text of the newest pm`s will be shown and there is a possibility of an immediate answer in a popup.

You may download the module here
