I started a humor magazine at my High School. I've just opened the website for the magazine, at <http://www.bhsjester.com> While a bit of it may be esoteric to students at my school, I think it's great humor and should be read by ALL!

Also, any feedback/suggestions on XOOPS implementation or content would be greatly appreciated. Oh, and we need SO much money to get it printed, so if you feel like donating to the cause, you'll be given the key to the city...if those things actually exist in real life.
