A few weeks ago when I released Version 2 of the Karate Redux Blue theme, a few people asked me if I could also release it in green and red. It's been a bit of a wait, probably more than it should have been, but I finally got around to doing it. You can go to my site at www.it-hq.org to and select the themes from the theme block to see what they look like, or you can download them from here;
