Our site was previously devoted to our hobby of high-powered rocketry and was built on PostNuke. Well, times change and so do the restrictions on hobby rocketry by the ATF! Anyway, our website direction is moving away from rocketry and more towards other hobbies like Linux gaming and 4wheelin'.

Since our website was completely changing, we thought we would check other CMS systems. Once we found XOOPS, we knew we had a keeper!

You can check it out at: <http://disturbedbrothers.com>

Our content is pretty light right now, but we're getting more articles out there when we can.
