Hi there, for some time now I have been developing Flash Modules & Flash Themes (WebDesignHQ.com) for Postnuke & PHP-Nuke, and I am just wondering how compatible the XOOPS module & theme system is... compared to Postnuke? I just downloaded the rc1 version, and am installing it, but would like some input before I start to work on converting my current modules/themes.... just to make sure there aren't going to be any major overhauls on the module system or theme system before the final release. Thanks! Jared
