I wanted to ask that you help spread the word...

Ablegamers.com is a website dedicated to serving the community of gamers who love mmorpg gaming and whom also happen to have disabilities. Our goals are to create an on-line community of support for one another, offer advice/reviews of games and gaming equipment, and be a place for game developers to come for information on how to create products to better serve our needs. We are dedicated to our mission of bringing disabled gamers together to help one another in a pleasant relaxed atmosphere. All are welcomed here.
