

BC Car-Free Outdoor Recreation Portal - YAXS

NEWS_PDF_AUTHOR: Grover

NEWS_PDF_DATE: 2005/5/8 8:20:42

We're still sweeping up the sawdust and letting the paint dry but the BC Car-Free Outdoor Portal is now open for business. The site is built around the outdoor guidebook BC Car-Free: Exploring Southwestern British Columbia Without a Car, 340-pages devoted to hiking and backpacking, kayaking and cycletouring and a whole host of nature-watching activities on the west coast of British Columbia, all of which are accessible via one form of public transportation or another.

You'll note we deployed one of those dynamic themes from linesweb.com and asked many questions of the list to get this far so fast.

We'd love to hear what you think -- good or bad -- and if you see any boo-boos let us know and we'll slap a bandaid on 'em.

We're still sweeping up the sawdust and letting the paint dry but the BC Car-Free Outdoor Portal is now open for business. The site is built around the outdoor guidebook BC Car-Free: Exploring Southwestern British Columbia Without a Car, 340-pages devoted to hiking and backpacking, kayaking and cycletouring and a whole host of nature-watching activities on the west coast of British Columbia, all of which are accessible via one form of public transportation or another.

You'll note we deployed one of those dynamic themes from linesweb.com and asked many questions of the list to get this far so fast.

We'd love to hear what you think -- good or bad -- and if you see any boo-boos let us know and we'll slap a bandaid on 'em.