We just got our new site for Norsk Misjon i Øst (Norwegian Mission to the East/NMTE) up and running. NMTE is a NGO based in Oslo, Norway, dealing with matters related to religious freedom (article 18 in the UN Declaration on Human Rights), in countries where these rights are being neglected or violated.

The site is only in Norwegian language, as our users are mainly based in Norway. But hopefully we will have the time to create an English version sometime.

Many thanks to Christopher Kvarme (XOOPS nickname: risto) for introducing us to XOOPS and for building our site!
