The WebMailFX Team would like to officially inform all users that the module is no longer maintained.

A new webmail module is scheduled to be released soon. It will be build upon a more stable and mature platform called Iloha Mail. The port of Iloha Mail to XOOPS as already been partially realized.

The new webmail module will be, presumably, preserve a back-compatibility with WebMailFX.

The database structure will be the same to help users migrating to the new platform.

Thanx to all the XOOPS users which supported WebMailFX over the time.
