After some development time, the Veteran clan now has a new template for their website. This site is completely powered by Xoops and is partially modified to suit the demands of this 21+ international gaming clan.

Although the theme still suffers from several necessary drawbacks (like fixed width), we hope the theme is received positively by our vast user community.

Please provide me (reply here, pm me or mail to: horatio@veteranclan.com) with any necessary feedback.

All hail the mighty XoOps development and support teams for enabling the creative!
