Almost 1 year ago we have launched Software News website. It was just the first version of small website with latest software releases and free downloads.

But we work hard every day. Recently updated Software News website became one of the best search engine optimized website powered by XOOPS today. Hacked XOOPS structure with lots of unique mods, daily software updates, latest downloads, free support forums and effective advertising services bring us thousands of visitors every day, what proves about the high popularity of our website.

We believe that you will enjoy our free tech support forums and friendly members. If you have decided to join friendly community and chat with new friends from all the whole world, you are more than welcome here. And if you have some comments or critics about us - please do not hesitate and post it here. Only your critics will help us to improve Software news website and offer much more useful information every day.
