After I moved the host, xoops.info is back. XOOPS.info has published XOOPS 2.2 code documentation. It uses phpxref version of documentation. Referenced xoops code is available as part of doc.Doc is searchable for classes, function, variable and constants used in code. It will be valuable resource for XOOPS beginner. Experienced developers may take advantage of the doc as reference material for module developments. The doc will be also a good resource for any new php programmer as reference material.
  If you face any difficulty please let me know. Sorry for inconvenience during downtime.
