Artwire - Student Art Community just introduced a new sweepstakes to select a finalist for the Grand Prize trip to the 2006 MTV Movie Awards. By combining C-Jay content to display the rules and a site ad with Liaise, Artwire is able accept entries all within the XOOPs framework. Artwire has also introduced a free podcast using XOOPs tools to manage access and instructions. The first installation is an art class entitled "How to Draw a Head."

Artwire uses XOOPs modules MyAlbum, C-Jay Content, XHLD, News and more to create a visually stimulating, content rich site to encourage young people to share their art in a comfortable way.
