Custom and Stock is a car enthusiast community site for posting and selling your classic or custom car, communicating with other car enthusiasts, and buying/selling/trading autoparts and other car related items.

Take a look: www.customandstock.com

--note--

For the purpose of this site, I have designed a completely new module from scratch named "Cars".

Also, I have made many changes to the profiles module to include blogs and friends, and a more full featured avatar/profile photo system, as well as several other features that integrate profiles, pm, and the cars module.
