Yes, ... finally ... while having to deal with some private affairs in the past weeks, I'm back to regular with the xoops site of the month "december 2006? contest and the results for month november 2006. Sorry for being some days behind the schedule but I think we will manage it though?

Like we did in the past, the voting form is available only for registered, but you might want to look at the different xoops usage examples as well if you are not a registered visitor.
