I am working on a XOOPS 2.0.16 theme that is wire-frame based, css 2.1 compliant and uses opacity to allow items to look translucent.

I want to make the final product available to the XOOPS community but before I do so I would like ideas and comments from you regarding problems or features you might want in the base theme.

The initial implementation of the theme may be seen at==> <http://jvalley.net>

If you are interested in having input into this effort, please add a comment here or PM me. 😊

I plan to release (make available) the final version on my site: <http://eirenicon.org>

Pax vobiscum,
