In order to structure better our XOOPS Website, we started to use more extensively MyTabs by Trabis.

This will help us to group together support topics related to Core, Themes, Modules, XOOPS Website, and Installations.

In the past, when some topics were more popular, they tended to be the more visible, and as a result the less popular topics quickly disappeared from the radar screen.

We also opened a new MyTab Page for XOOPS Teams. We hope that more people will join XOOPS Teams when they see what is needed and what the Teams are working on.

Please let us know if this is a better structure and if you find the navigation easier to find the topics that are of interest to you.

Please provide feedback in this thread....
