This release was a major step for us since it adds Daily Motion video support. Previous releases were based solely on YouTube. We have also provided XOOPS site search, XOOPS global comments, an improved portable video preview overlay, video wall blocks and two additional video display formats. We still have a few items on the wishlist for Video Tube v1.7 but the majority of requested features have been addressed. Once we receive feedback on the incorporation of Daily Motion and finish the last tweaks so everyone is satisfied, we will start development adding MetaCafe, Revver and blip.tv.
