We've completed the move of <http://www.xoops.org> to our new server 🏠

We would like to express our deep appreciations to the staff of Surpass Hosting for all their help during the transition.

There are still some cosmetics to be done related to UTF-8, but in general, you should be able to use the server without any problems. If there are any issues, please let us know.

Now that we're done with the move, we'll be able to focus on fixing few things here and there, and then focus on redesign of the Website and improving the usability. Please provide us with your feedback in this thread
