As most of you know, GuitarGearHeads.com has been using Xoops exclusively since 2004.

Since then we have been steadily upgrading and customizing. In the past few months, we have partnered with Instant-Zero to meet some demanding enhancements to current modules, as well as "built from scratch" modules.

We are currently proud of two significant upgrades to our site.

First, is a major spotlight enhancement of the standard News module. It allows for very sophisticated article layouts, including "most-recent" and "random" displays, with auto-sizing image tags.

Also we have finished implementation of a new BuyersGuide module. This module allows manufacturers/advertisers to list products using a customized e-commerce back-end that is integrated with Xoops user groups.

We have greatly enjoyed our relationship with Herve' at Instant-Zero and hope for a long partnership!
