Blogger's Theme (APH007B) is a 2 columns fixed width theme for XOOPS. It contains by default 5 preset styles but with a little imagination in combining them you can create up to 15 different styles which means you will have 15 different looking themes.

Theme also contains a beautiful image scroller with a preset number of 5 images which can be replaced with your own and you can add as many as you want but DO consider that the more images you add the higher the loading time of the site will be.

PS.

This is a slight modified version of the "Blogger's Delight" theme made several months ago
