Hello everyone,

This is my first collaboration for Xoops.

XDfriend theme is very different from what can be found in Xoops themes, I wanted it to have an index page or the blocks can be displayed and organized as we would like for it I used Smarty Xoops .

The main points of this theme:

- Organization and position of the blocks on the index pages according to your wishes.
- Background of each change for each module
- Integration of the slider just to the index page is no longer active in other pages
- Horizontal menu entirely in CSS 3
- Display number of private messages received in the user menu

The theme is compatible with Firefox, IE, Opera, Chrome, Safari

How to change index page?

For this we must change the file io-index.html in the folder that Xotpl

A table was set up to display the titles for blocks and just all happy simply to create a different picture if it does not suit you.

How to display the titles of blocks but in this picture?

You can view all the title you want to do it sufficed to identify the ID of your block and add in your table cell as the sample line for the block with ID 21:

How to display blocks but happy in this picture?

To start the background image of the index page and named "content_bg.png" that she found in the img Theme:

All first create another image with the desired color and named content_bg1.png and transfer in the img

Then open the style.css file and put this line example for the private message module:
