I have been using Postnuke for my CMS needs for some time. Untill recently i switched to XOOPS, and it does the job just nice! My site helges.net is my personal homepage, beefed up with lot of the modules i found. I adapted it all to fit perfectly, and im really satisfied now! 🍷

A big Thanks to the Xoops core and module developers, you are all doing a great job. Keep 'em coming!
BTW: Is XOOPS used mostly for personal or formal/business homepages? Any opinions on this subject?
