We needed to build this theme for a customer and thought we'd share it with the community.

It's based upon a html5up theme and made suitable for XOOPS. It is a slick and minimalistic theme based on the skeleton framework that will adjust to blocks shown as well as what device is viewing the website.

The top-menu is built by XOOPS and uses the left block. The Right-block is used for the most bottom area and every block will be presented horizontally.

For the fmcontent module we've also made custom templates and CSS changes.
