Dear xoops-users

I would like to present my new module wgTeams.

wgTeams is a simple module for presentation of your team(s).
You can defined various teams and people. After that you can link each person to one or more teams. The default information of a person (e.g. email address) will be used for all teams.
You can define additional information fields, which will be used for a team/member combination, e.g. skills for this team, position in the team, and so on.

All used templates on user side are fully responsive, if you use a bootstrap theme or you include the bootstrap files manually to your theme.
