Today I open the ITG Energy Mexico website that was a great challenge in every aspect, but especially programming and moding a lot of parts of it.

The site is this: ITG Energy Mexico

The freatures of the site are:

- Totally responsive
- SEO Friendly
- HTML 5 and CSS3 based
- XOOPS 2.5.7.2
- Common Utilities 2.3.2.5
- xThemes 1.6.3.6

You can control many kind of features from the admin panel with the help of xThemes and Common Utilities, this features are the next:

- You can change the colors of the entire site
- You can control the main slider and all the elements; even you can create as many sliders you want. The main slider use Revolution Slider.
- Manage and control de content of the main page and some sections including blocks and images.
- Add or delete client logos from the footer page.
- You can add Google Analytics script and some script for live chat like Zopim or any other you want. Only put the script code in admin theme.
- You can control the links of all your social networks.
- Create menus and sub menus in header and footer page.
- Control the carousels of main page from admin.
- Projects and news in main page without a block.
- Capacity for show information and menus for subscribe users only depending on group.
- And many other stuff...

The modules used in the site are:

- MyWords
- Professional Works
- Quick Pages
- Oledrion (v 2.0 en español)
- SmartFAQ
- xForms

Thanks to the XOOPS Community and especially thanks to BitCero for the great modules, and the support on it. That web site is the result.

Finally I would like to say: Believe, XOOPS is great! 😊
