Thanks to Bleekk and the XOOPS Germany team, we have now "Drag & Drop" incorporated into MyMenus Module.

In the picture below, you can see the links as bars that you can drag around to set the sorting, as well as the sub-links:

Also incorporated are changes from Luciorota, who added an option to use skins from the theme.

As always, it is great to see when developers are working as team and are helping each other! 😊

If you find any bugs, please report them here, or directly on GitHub:

As always, we encourage everybody to fork it and help us by contributing back to the development.
