Independent Review of XOOPS 2.0.1 - News

NEWS_PDF_AUTHOR: Rooster

NEWS_PDF_DATE: 2003/4/22 17:58:01

This is to announce the publication of an independent review of XOOPS 2.0.1 in the Which Nuke for You? technology series at All-American Web Portals. The article was released earlier this morning in conjunction with the opening of an XOOPS demonstration site at this location, and was published here and on our main site.

The XOOPS Project developer and user community are to be commended for this new release. We have enjoyed putting it through its paces. Several modules were also tested, but not reviewed. Plans to review these modules and others have been put in the queue for publication at a later date.

All XOOPS supporters are invited to review both the article and the demo site, as comments are always welcomed.

This is to announce the publication of an independent review of XOOPS 2.0.1 in the Which Nuke for You? technology series at All-American Web Portals. The article was released earlier this morning in conjunction with the opening of an XOOPS demonstration site at this location, and was published here and on our main site.

The XOOPS Project developer and user community are to be commended for this new release. We have enjoyed putting it through its paces. Several modules were also tested, but not reviewed. Plans to review these modules and others have been put in the queue for publication at a later date.

All XOOPS supporters are invited to review both the article and the demo site, as comments are always welcomed.