ok, I'm tired now and I definitely need some sleep 😊 , BUT, I fixed all my themes for Gecko browsers and I hope also for MAC, but I didn't test the MAC compatibility. It did take some alterations in the layout but I think they still look okay. Some details may still differ in different browsers but the idea will be the same this time.

And last but not least, I put my Montisblue Theme in the downloads section, so enjoy. I re-opened my downloads again for the public because all my themes have been updated. For all the people who downloaded them b4 today: download them again (unless you don't care about Mozilla and MAC compatibility of course)

I have to say I would appreciate you guys registering at my site, just to do me a favour 🙏 , but it isn't a must (for now, depending on how much more themes I'm gonna make.

The template file is also in the downloadssection just in case you missed that.

That wraps it up I think....enjoy!

oh and b4 I forget: Click here to go to my site
